Walkout Discussed By 175 Workers

Income Tax Branch Employees May Strike Here

Linked With Toronto Move

Possibility of a walkout of 175 employees of the income tax department, Edmonton division, was seen Tuesday following a meeting of the income tax staff association to consider a similar move in this direction originating from alleged dissatisfaction with conditions affecting employees of the Toronto tax department.

WHEN ASKED to declare the position of the local association, George P. Patterson, president, said in a prepared statement, "although this association is watching developments with very keen interest, we wish at the present time to withhold any comment."

"Your meeting must have come to some decision, does 'no comment' mean your 175 staff members may walk out?" Mr. Patterson was questioned.

"I have no further comment," he replied.

A RECENT REPORT stated that income tax employees in Toronto were planning the walkout April 30 — tax deadline day — in protest against government "red tape and interminable delays in getting wage and job adjustments."

Ward Taylor, president of the Vancouver branch of the association, said that workers there were adopting a "wait-and-see" policy and are following instructions of their national president to "exercise patience."

The Vancouver report said that association members in that district were "extremely dissatisfied" with wage and working conditions, but that a work stoppage had not been contemplated.

G. W. Northfield, income tax inspector for Alberta, Tuesday had no comment on the possibility of an employees' strike here.

As Nitrate Burns

Texas City Faces New Blast Threat

By JOHN HARTZELL

TEXAS CITY, Tex., April 22 (BUP)—Survivors in this stricken city calmly met the threat of a new explosion today and withdrew from the blast-torn waterfront area as fires flared in ammonium nitrate buried in the heart of the disaster zone.

There was no panic as the ammonium nitrate—cause of the original explosion which killed hundreds—caught fire close to the dockfront where explosion of the French freighter Grand Camp's nitrate cargo last Wednesday touched off the disaster.

Reclamation workers and men still hunting bodies of persons killed last Wednesday fled to safety as the new alarm was sounded. Police broadcast orders for evacuation of the entire city south of the downtown main street. Residents complied swiftly.

In a short time the danger area was isolated. Officials said no attempt would be made to fight the new fire and that if an explosion occurred "no lives will be in danger."

Germans Protest Heligoland Blast

HAMBURG, April 22—(Reuters)—Police have arrested a number of men for sticking posters on Hamburg city walls in protest against Britain's action last Friday in demolishing the naval base of Heligoland. The posters read: "Heligoland is holy land. Take care. The sun cross is a German mythological design from which sprang the Swastika, adopted by the Nazis."

Displaced Persons Big Problem

Europe Faces Potential Danger Of Uncontrolled "Terror" Bands

LONDON, April 22 (Reuters)—The potential danger to Europe of uncontrolled bands of displaced persons, with gunmen, traitors, quillings and terrorists in their ranks, may become serious unless the United Nations' international refugee organization quickly becomes a workable body supported by at least 15 countries.

BRITISH authorities in close touch with the refugee problem emphasized last night the extent of this danger, centred chiefly in Italy, where, although there are

OTTAWA TAKES UP THE CASE OF THE RUSSIAN BRIDE: Love can't find a way, so Canada's department of external affairs has taken up the problem of George Power and his Soviet bride. Power, former secretary in the Canadian embassy at Moscow, married a Russian ballerina in 1945, has been trying ever since to obtain visa for her.

Hon. Louis St. Laurent told the House of Commons he is still awaiting a reply from Moscow. Other brides of Britons who have been unable to leave the country are, left to right: Ludmila Squire, Clara Hall, Ira Rouley, Inna Price, Rose Henderson, Olga Burke, Nada Bolon and Nata Whitehead.

Warship Adrift 22 On Aquitania Injured in Gale

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., April 22—(CP)—The liner Aquitania docked today after riding out Atlantic gales in which Cunard-White Star officials said 22 persons were injured Saturday night while the ship was en route to Britain from Halifax and Bermuda.

ONE OF THE vessel's 1,107 passengers was taken to hospital here with several facial injuries. Treated in the ship's hospital among the other 21 injured passengers was Mrs. Judith Fraser, Vancouver, who suffered rib injuries and facial bruises.

The ship was reported undamaged by the buffeting. At Liverpool, gusts reaching 80 miles an hour velocity prevented the liner Mauretania from docking after high-speed test runs preparatory to resuming trans-Atlantic passenger service. Officials said she would berth tomorrow, weather permitting.

MEANWHILE the 31,000-ton battleship Warspite was adrift off Land's End, the southwestern tip of England. The Warspite broke loose while under tow to a shipyard for scrapping, but radioed she was in no immediate danger.

Capt. G. E. Cove, master of the Aquitania, said the liner battled a westerly gale throughout most of the crossing and speed was reduced to minimize rolling.

Fear Liner, 250 Passengers Lost

RANGOON, April 22—(Reuters)—The British Indian Steam Navigation Company liner Sir Harvey Adamson carrying 250 passengers is feared lost in the Mergui Archipelago, off the Tenasserim coast, lower Burma, it was learned here today.

The Sir Harvey Adamson is a steamship of 1,030 gross registered tons, built in 1914 at Glasgow.

The ship, which plies between Rangoon and Mergui, left here April 17 and is believed to have run into a cyclone last week-end in the treacherous waters of the Mergui Archipelago.

RAF planes have been searching the coastal region and the British Indian Company's agents here said tonight the search was continuing.

Wage Talks

WINNIPEG, April 22—(CP)—Canadian airline pilots' association officials announced here today that they are conferring with officers of the Canadian Pacific Airways for the purpose of bringing the salaries of CPA pilots in line with those of the other major Canadian airlines.

THE PROBLEM for IRO is the residue of about 1,000,000 many of whom have good, though not always legitimate reasons for not going home.

Lad, 'Burned at Stake' Is Eager to Play Ball, Doesn't Know Legs Gone

MALDEN, Mass., April 22—(BUP)—Eleven-year-old Glenwood Brann, Jr., lay in his hospital bed today and made his plans for playing second base on his grammar school baseball team. He didn't know both of his legs had been amputated.

"Shucks," I figure I've got a swell chance of makin' second base on our team if I hurry up and get better," the plucky youngster said. "I think I'm getting better because my toes don't hurt any more."

At his bedside sat his father, wondering how he could break the news.

Glenwood was accidentally "burned at the stake" last month while playing cowboy and Indian with two school chums. The boys were re-enacting a movie scene and Glenwood, playing the part of the cowboy, was tied to a chair in an apartment house basement. One of his chums playfully waved a red hot poker in his face and it ignited the oil-soaked rope binding him.

"I'm tired of stayin' in the hospital," he told his father. "Everybody's been awful nice to me here and I ain't complainin'. But a guy feels like a dope stayin' in bed with the baseball season here."

He said he was anxious to see his new sister, Arleen, born last Friday, two hours after the doctors amputated his legs.

"I'd feel better if it wasn't for my legs," he added. "They hurt pretty bad, specially at night."

DELTA SAID the company plane coming in for a landing was struck from above by a former primary trainer converted to civilian use, a BT-13.

The Delta plane, a C-47 which had been purchased from the army and converted into a survey and pilot training craft by the airline, was broken in two. The wreckage was scattered over the end of the airport runways.

Jack Russell, 40, pilot of the BT-13, was the ninth victim. He was the only occupant of the small plane.

DELTA ANNOUNCED that its plane was piloted by George W. Cushing, vice-president in charge of operations and a veteran flier with 2,000,000 miles to his credit.

The other seven men aboard were: H. R. Bolander, director of properties of Delta Airlines, San Francisco; Larry T. Campbell, superintendent of communications, Hapeville, Ga.

E. Rainard, chief of flight superintendents, New York; Clayton Berry, airport construction supervisor for Delta, Hapeville.

J. V. Little, district traffic manager for Delta, Cartersville, Ga. JOHN L. SCHNEIDER, superintendent of stations, Natchez, Miss. Lindley W. Camp, legal staff, Atlanta.

FORMATION of the IRO was supported by 30 UN members, but so far only 12 confirmed their membership. Three more countries must join before the IRO can actually come into being.

Neither Russia nor any of the Eastern European countries have joined the international refugee organization.

$16,000,000 Loss Troops' Financing Costly to Ottawa

By DICK JACKSON
OTTAWA, April 22—The keen business acumen of Canadian troops who showed an "operating profit" of 40,000,000 guilders in Holland, has cost the Canadian government $16,000,000.

WORD OF THIS high financing by the troops leaked out today with the departure from Ottawa of Holland's deputy finance minister who came to the Dominion to bargain on redemption of Dutch guilders held by the Canadian government.

High officials of the finance department confirmed the story. When Canadian troops went into Holland they were supplied with Dutch guilders, bought for them

Youth Injured Police Seeking Hit, Run Driver

A hit and run motorist who struck and injured Harry McMillan, 11921 91 street, Monday night was being sought by city police Tuesday. McMillan, a 17-year-old telephone boy, suffered a scalp wound behind the left ear which required two stitches to close, and a minor injury to his hip.

The youth said he was riding his bicycle west on 107 avenue about 11:35 p.m. and when between 102 and 103 streets an auto struck him from behind, knocking him to the pavement. The auto then drove on.

McMillan was picked up by a passing motorist and taken to the police station. Police then removed the lad to the Royal Alexandra hospital for treatment. McMillan said the car which struck him had an emblem on the side.

"Bad Taste" Von Papan Moved To Bavaria Resort

LUERNBERG, April 22—(AP)—Franz von Papan, former German diplomat convicted by a German denazification court, was moved today with other patients at an internment hospital from Nuernberg to the Bavarian resort of Garmisch-Partenkirchen, his lawyer reported.

The French radio quoted a Dutch broadcast today saying von Papan had died during the night in a Nuernberg prison, but Agence France-Presse later issued a report indicating the Dutch announcement was incorrect.

Set Tax Rate

CALGARY, April 22—(CP)—Approval of the 1947 civic estimates and adoption of a tax rate of 50.5 mills was voted by Calgary's city council, Monday, at a meeting. Last year's mill rate was 46.

Expect Exemptions To Be Boosted

By George Kitchen
OTTAWA, April 22 (CP)—Personal income tax reductions in the approaching budget will take the form of an immediate flat 10 per cent cut in all brackets plus increased basic exemptions for married and single persons, the Canadian Press learned yesterday.

A REDUCTION of this proportion, it was said, would dovetail into the 10-per cent pattern which has been shaping up roughly in increases which have been granted by the prices board over recent months in the prices of rentals and other goods and services. The basic exemptions may be boosted from $750 to $1,000 for single persons and from $1,500 to $1,750 for married persons, with the possibility that these may not become effective until next Jan. 1. This would follow the course in the 1946 budget when personal income tax cuts generally were made effective on Jan. 1 this year.

INFORMED SOURCES also said the budget will be brought down the night of Thursday, May 1, provided emergency control legislation now before the Commons is passed by that date. Current progress indicates the legislation

Expect Big Drop In CNR Income

OTTAWA, April 22—(CP)—The Canadian National Railways' net operating income is expected to drop more than $24,000,000 this year unless it obtains a freight rate increase, the company told the Board of Transport Commissioners today.

A SET OF EXHIBITS presented at the board's freight-rate inquiry gave an estimate of $1,083,000 as net railway operating income this year at existing rates, compared with $3,573,000 in 1946.

For 1947, against the $1,083,000 net railway income the CNR showed financial requirements of $61,222,000, largely made up of debt

Camrose Child Drowns in Ditch

Roger Paulson, 2-year-old Camrose child, was drowned Monday afternoon, when he accidentally fell into a ditch full of water, according to RCMP.

The boy was visiting at the farm home of John Sharuga, 15 miles east of Camrose. His mother, Mrs. M. Paulson, was in the house along with members of the Sharuga family while the boy played outside.

Dr. J. D. Neville, district coroner, said no inquest will be held.

Daylight Time

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., April 22—(CP)—Mayor W. M. McRae will proclaim daylight saving time in Medicine Hat from May 1 to Oct. 1, it was decided at a city council meeting here last night.

Secrecy Shrouds Carrier Launching

BELFAST, April 22—(AP)—The Centaur, British light aircraft carrier, was launched amid strict security regulations today by the Duchess of Kent. Broadside photographs of the new vessel were prohibited and her displacement was not disclosed. Thousands watched the launching, however, despite wind and rain. In London, the admiralty said the ship was along the lines of the Colossus class. The Colossus, launched in 1943, has a displacement of 14,000 tons, according to Jane's Fighting Ships.

Show Profit

OTTAWA, April 22—(CP)—Canadian National West Indies Steamships, Ltd., completed 1946 with an operating profit of $1,709,888, compared with $1,583,159 in the previous year, it was shown today in the annual report which outlined the company's expansion plans for 1947.

OTTAWA, April 22—(CP)—A dominions conference of the CCF in Canada and the Labor parties of Britain, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa will be held in or near Toronto, Sept. 1-15, inclusive, it was announced today.

At Least Eight Persons Die In New Holy Land Violence

By Carter L. Davidson

JERUSALEM, April 22—(AP)—Terrorists blew up a British troop train southeast of Tel Aviv today, killing at least eight persons, and then machine-gunning the wreckage. The attack was made two hours after two condemned Jews committed suicide with explosives just before they were to have mounted the gallows.

ARMY SOURCES said they believed the "Egypt Express" bringing soldiers from that country, had been attacked by members of the Jewish underground group, Irgun Zvai Leumi. Four coaches were demolished, apparently by electrically-detonated mines under the rails.

Police said "from 150 to 200" persons aboard the wrecked train suffered cuts and bruises.

Troops and guards were reported to have exchanged fire with the attackers, but no one was captured. One of the dead was a child, two were civilians and five were soldiers. Those at the scene reported seeing arms, legs and other parts of mutilated bodies in the wreckage.

PROBABLY TWO dozen other persons were trapped in the debris. While rescue squads hastened toward the scene from all parts of the coastal plain, military and police authorities cordoned off the entire Rehovot area—where the attack occurred. Several hundred Jews were hastily screened in a search for extremists believed responsible.

News of the wrecking of the train quickly spread through the Holy Land, adding to the nervous tension created a short time earlier by the disclosure that two condemned Jewish extremists had committed suicide in Jerusalem.

1947 Outlook "Not Bright"

CNR Shows Deficit Of $8,961,570 for 1946

OTTAWA, April 22—(CP)—The annual report of Canadian National Railways was tabled in the Commons today showing the publicly-owned system came out of 1946 with a deficit of $8,961,570 compared with a profit of $24,756,130 earned in 1945 and with predictions that its outlook for 1947 was not financially bright.

PRESIDENT R. C. Vaughan reported that although railway traffic in train miles was almost as heavy as in 1945, return to peacetime normalcy was hampered by re-conversion in industry, by strikes and by shortages of rolling stock. Savings in operating costs "were more than offset by increased rates of pay and increased prices for fuel and the materials used in railway operation and maintenance."

For the future outlook, the president had this to say: "The higher costs, which have been obscured by peak traffic conditions, became apparent as traffic volume diminished and their impact has not yet been fully felt."

"THE WAGE increases of June 1, 1946 will be in effect for the full year in 1947. It is estimated that

Cost $550,000 to Build Group Edmonton Men Buy Birks Building

Announcement was made in Montreal and Edmonton Tuesday that the Birks building, corner of 104 street and Jasper avenue, has been purchased by a group of Edmonton business and professional men headed by Francis G. Winespear. The purchasing price of the property was not disclosed.

ERECTED IN 1930 the structure cost approximately $550,000 to build. It has three floors in addition to the ground floor space which is occupied by Birks' retail jewelry business and other retail stores. It has approximately 21,000 square feet of office space in the upper three stories.

The building was built primarily for service to the medical and dental profession, and every office has plentiful outlets for seven services. They include hot and cold water, compressed air, vacuum lines, power and sewer.

The construction of the building is such that these services can be extended, permitting almost any conceivable requirement for the medical and dental professions.

ANNOUNCING the sale of the building Henry G. Birks, president of the company, stated at Montreal that "the primary object of our company in erecting the Birks Building was not only

Help Fight Cancer

One person out of every eight dies of cancer. During the late war, 40,800 Canadians were killed by the enemy. In the same period 83,200 Canadians were killed by cancer.

It is this appalling death rate from the disease that impels the Canadian Cancer Society to proclaim this Cancer Week, so that the attention of Canadians might be called to the circumstances of cancer and so that their financial assistance might be elicited to fight it.

The purpose of the campaign appears to be twofold; first, to gain a larger membership for the Society so that the facts about cancer might be known to more people, and secondly, to secure an adequate fund for cancer research.

It is already known to science that cancer is usually curable in its earliest stages. It is important, then, that everybody should be aware of the importance of immediately consulting a competent physician on the appearance of any symptoms.

What is not known to science is the cause of cancer. No one knows positively what happens to the cellular structure of the tissue which persuades it to adopt the irregularities of growth and behavior described as a cancerous condition.

Once the cause of cancer is known, a sure and infallible cure may easily be found. For it is the experience of medicine that once the factors which produce a disease are discovered, the eradication of those factors is comparatively simple.

This, then, is why a large research fund is necessary—to enquire into the cause of cancer until some satisfactory explanation is found.

Edmonton citizens can aid this cause in one or both of two ways; first, by becoming members of the Canadian Cancer Society by payment of an annual fee of not less than one dollar; and by direct contributions of larger sums to the work of the Society.

It is a worthwhile campaign which should have the support of everyone.

Canada Shares the Benefit

The outlook for industrial peace in the United States is believed to be better now than it has been at any time since the end of the war.

This suddenly brightened prospect is the immediate result of the settlement between the United States Steel Corporation and its employees. The employees get a wage-increase of 15 cents per hour. They are to drop claims for portal-to-portal back pay amounting to $500,000,000. The corporation in turn is to try to absorb the wage-increase and avoid raising the basic price of steel.

Industries which require steel as raw material, and those which need new machinery, can now calculate in advance what this will cost them, therefore what they will have to charge for their products. And throughout industry the basis of settlement will almost certainly be accepted as setting a standard for the adjustment of wage disputes. Hence the expectation that tie-ups will cease and production go on without further interruption.

This is of great importance to Canada. Industrial peace in the Dominion could hardly be looked for if conflict raged across the border. The cost of steel supplies and machinery will be stabilized here also. Wage increases beyond those demanded in the United States would be out of line in Canada. There is reason to suppose that the steel settlement will therefore halt the trend toward inflation on both sides of the line, will set a pattern for wage adjustments, discourage stoppages of production and allow industry to carry on the reconstruction job with gathering speed and a levelling-off influence upon the cost of living.

Keep Them in the Open

A Quebec member wants parliament to outlaw the Communist party in Canada.

This is another instance of mis-directed zeal. If his bill became law that would not convert Communists to democracy. It would only wipe the party name off the recognized list. The organization itself would be driven underground and its agents compelled to carry on their propaganda by secretive methods—therefore hidden from the public gaze.

Since there are Communists in Canada it is better that they operate openly, that the public see what they are doing, hear what they say, and are thus in position to frustrate their efforts. Democracy cannot be saved by pretending that there are no political alternatives. Nor has it anything to fear from comparisons which are made openly and thus subject to correction.

A better bill would be one that would make it a punishable offence for any political organization to carry on missionary work under cover. Such a law could never be fully enforced. But it would stand as a challenge to every group and faction to come out in the open and do its talking where its statements and views could be examined and refuted. Any organization which refused to do this would condemn itself in the mind of every person it might contact.

A Silent Rebuke

No great notice seems to have been taken, except by some of the American correspondents, of an incident in Their Majesties' South African tour which deserves to be recorded as a rebuke to the race conscious, whoever and wherever they are, and in particular to the mayor of Ladybrand, in the Orange Free State.

The program at Ladybrand included singing by school children's choirs, including one of colored children. A New York Times correspondent writes in praise of the superior performance which the African's native sense of harmony and rhythm made possible.

At the conclusion of the program the mayor of Ladybrand led Their Majesties to the leaders of each of the white children's choruses and introduced them.

As they were about to enter their waiting car, the Queen was seen to speak to the King, and immediately they went together straight to the native choirmaster, with whom they shook hands and congratulated him. The no doubt astonished mayor, in the meantime, was left behind, and what his feelings were must be imagined.

However, it awakens hope for a new generation to read that the incident brought cheers from the white pupils.

Gone for Good

Blowing up the fortifications on and under Heligoland may be more a symbolic event than a strategic precaution. Should another war occur in which the fortress would be a menace to the democratic powers, an atomic bomb could probably do the destruction job more completely. But as the home of a small colony of fisherfolk the island will be an impressive symbol of the pass to which military aggression has brought Germany.

Back in 1890 Gladstone "swapped" Heligoland with Germany for Zanzibar. He was retrospectively condemned for the transaction during World War I, when the heavily fortified island shielded the German coast against Allied naval attack. After that war the military works were demolished. Hitler rebuilt them. But that seems to have been mainly a waste of time and money, for the fortress did not figure largely in the operations of World War II.

This time, according to reports, a more thorough job was made of the demolition. Tunnels and caves in the underlying rock were crammed with German mines and other left-over explosives, and the island reduced to a "sand-bank", without future military significance.

A literary and musical entertainment was given in the public school by Simcoe Lee assisted by a number of local amateurs—J. W. Michael, Harry Anthony, C. Becher, C. L. Shaw and R. B. Cameron. An attempt is being made to include the small remaining number of Indians of the Two Hills band to move to the Stony Plain reserve, thereby leaving the Two Hills reserve open for settlement. The band now consists of some eight families, about sixty souls, occupying an area eight miles by six, two miles immediately south of Edmonton. The chief having left the band, the remaining members are without a chief, the holder of that office having resigned in disgust last year. The gentleman who acts as headman for the Two Hills remnant had an idea last fall that by getting his friends to join the Stony Plain band he would have sufficient influence to secure his selection as chief. The move, however, was not made and during the winter the chances of the aspiring gentleman decreased. Since then he has used his influence to prevent a union.

On the Wrong Road

BY ELMORE PHILPOTT

The Moscow meeting is a failure. Not only is there to be no preliminary agreement on peace for Germany, but the whole conduct of the conference has been such as further to befog the international atmosphere.

To the ordinary person there is only one thing clear about the present world picture—that we are on the wrong road.

At the time of Franklin Roosevelt's death the world seemed on the very doorstep of an era of peace—with plenty. Now, two years after, we are close to another world war.

IF TWO AND TWO always make four—then the things which the big powers are now doing surely add up to another war. All we have to do to get the "strike three" world war is to keep right on doing what we are doing.

All the factors which have always led to world war in the past are plainly in operation now. Barring the intervention of some strong saving force, another war is absolutely inevitable.

Yet I was never so strong in my own belief that we will escape the final catastrophe. For it seems to me that there are in existence mighty forces making for peace—making for the end of human slaughter.

Lincoln, or Barnum, or maybe both said, "You can fool some of the people all the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

When you have had two world wars in a single lifetime you cannot fool the common people of any of the great nations into making themselves agents of the attack which would bring on the third.

That is not only true of Canada, Britain, and the United States—but in my opinion even more true of the Soviet Union.

READERS OF THIS column know that I regard the so-called "Truman doctrine" as unwise. But it is worth noting that all the really valid objections to this policy centre around the supposition that it is not really intended to do what President Truman says.

The President asks his people to spend $400 millions this year to make sure that neither Greece nor Turkey loses its independence—that neither has a government "imposed on it" from outside.

If these purposes were the sole and final purposes of the "Truman doctrine" then every sincere believer in democracy, in every country, could applaud the move. For those were the very purposes for which the League of Nations was formed in 1919. They are the very heart of the aims of the United Nations.

It is because public opinion outside the United States does not accept these purposes as the final and only aims of the Truman doctrine that the effect has been so sobering.

SURELY THIS gives the clue to the real source of the trouble.

1. The United States fears "Russian expansionism" and so plans to "contain Communism" by the same kind of "cordon sanitaire" that France foolishly built after 1918.

2. Russia fears that the United States moves are not defensive but offensive—that she is securing positions not to defend democracy but to launch an attack on Russia.

To me, it seems to be the height of hypocrisy to pretend that the world is not divided into sections. If the common peoples of the world are to prevent their governments from dragging all humanity into an annihilating atomic war, these moving blocs have got to be brought to a halt.

That can be done—and in my opinion, would have already been done had either the late Wilkie or Roosevelt, still living, been president of the United States.

A Letter to Henry Wallace

BY DOROTHY THOMPSON

Dear Mr. Wallace: You are being pretty well panned here, but I am writing with a serious, and I think constructive, suggestion.

I see you are going to Sweden. While there, you might inquire whether anything has been heard officially about Raoul Wallenberg. Until April 1, I believe, nothing had. Your reputation as the champion of the common man and the four freedoms, together with the confidence you have so far shown in the Soviet Union, may enable you to accomplish on your trip something for the ends you desire.

You might even think it worthwhile to cancel any projected appointment with Johannes Steel in order to attend to this matter. Without referring to his past, spent in the services of German armaments, after the last war, he was writing articles in the French Communist press attacking American policy and the American press. As an avowed anti-Communist, you ought not to cultivate such acquaintances.

THE WALLENBERG affair may seem small, but you would not call it insignificant.

You must recall that in the spring of 1944 President Roosevelt issued a powerful appeal to the Hungarian people to protect the Hungarian Jews and those who had fled there, and that the war refugee board raised funds for a rescue mission. Action, extremely hazardous, had to be disguised under the colors of a neutral country. But an intrepid man was found, in the person of Raoul Wallenberg, connected with the Swedish legation in Budapest.

His actions are recorded in a book by Rudolph Phillips which you can obtain in Sweden. Wallenberg managed—by pleas, bribes, threats, intrigues, and by his influence on the amorous wife of a Nazi minister—to save 100,000 Jews. He issued papers of protective Swedish citizenship to several thousands. He organized rescue missions in all neutral legations. He snatched victims from the Gestapo, even at the railroad stations where they were being deported. Seldom in the course of human history has so much been accomplished by one man. In Budapest, a street was named for him and a memorial monument begun.

The Nazis knew who was foiling their plans. But he escaped and lived to welcome the "liberating"

Russian armies, who took him and his property under "protection." Since then not one word has reached official channels about him, but returning prisoners have reported him a prisoner at forced labor in the U.S.S.R.

SINCE OFFICIAL channels have failed, your personal intervention with the Russian government might succeed. Sweden—small, and so near Soviet frontiers—finds it hard to do more for her citizen, especially since the new-type, jet-propelled, radio-directed robot bombs were tried out over her territory from the German station at Peenemünde, now in Russian hands. With your passion for peace, you might—at the same time—obtain permission to visit this station and set international fears at rest.

But if that is too difficult, you can surely obtain news of and justice for a man who responded to a plea from President Roosevelt, in whose name and for whose policies you claim to speak. For you are a citizen of a powerful nation and of "one world." The U.S.S.R. is greatly indebted to you. I am sure that on issues that must command your humanitarian sympathies and sense of honor you will not prove less intrepid in facing the leaders of the Soviets than in facing the president of the United States.

Wishing you well in this endeavor,

Sincerely yours,

THE OLDER VETERAN

Editor, Bulletin—Your article entitled "Remove the Barrier" appearing in a recent issue, contains a great deal of merit and seems a sensible solution covering a situation which is getting more critical every year—let's hope the powers that be will recognize the necessity of acting along these lines of modern thought.

Must Be a Reason

BY HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

I am not an expert on Russia. But because I see Russia every time I look into the future I have been making it a point recently to read everything I can lay my hands on about that country. And I have been impressed by the different opinions expressed by those observers who have had a chance to tour Russia and report their observations. Their reports vary so greatly that sometimes it is hard to realize that they are writing about the same people and the same country. And, because Russia is so vast, I suppose it is possible for each one of them to see different parts of it so that their honest reports can still vary.

One question which particularly struck me was the difference of opinion expressed by two writers as to why the Russians won't permit ordinary tourists to visit their country. One writer expressed the belief that the Russians didn't want people in the outside world to see what conditions were like behind the iron curtain because there were so many sinister things happening there. He talked of secret police, ignorance, inefficiency and concentration camps, regimentation and propaganda.

THE OTHER WRITER took a different view. He pointed out that in the first place the Russians were barely able to supply the needs of their own people and they just couldn't afford to divert any of their produce or manpower to satisfy the curiosity of rich Europeans, Britons or Americans. Whereas the tourist business offers Canadians, Americans, and other people an opportunity of disposing of their surplus of goods and services at a handsome profit, to the Russians it only offers the prospect of adding an additional strain to an economy already stretched almost to the breaking point.

This second writer also quotes Stalin as stating he will not permit the world to see his people or his people to see the world until their standard of living is at least the equal of that of their neighbours. Which is a very understandable point of view. I can certainly see where Russian propagandists would have a hard time explaining to their people how wealthy Americans got that way and why it was better to be a poor Russian than a wealthy American.

So after reading these conflicting reports I wondered whether some of the policies which seem so sinister might not have perfectly reasonable commensurate explanations. I believe it would be a step towards better international understanding, which we must have if we are to avoid another war, if we would make an honest effort to see the other fellows' points of view.

TOO OFTEN, it would seem, we are swift to accept the explanation of the sinister motive instead of trying to find the reasonable explanation. I am not suggesting we should blind ourselves to unpleasant facts, but we should not concentrate on accepting only the unpalatable facts. We must try to get a balanced viewpoint in order that our judgments may be fair and impartial.

London Cavalcade

BY FRANK B. WALKER

LONDON: Between the housing shortage and the blitz repairs, there is little room for the less practical type of building in Britain today but Miss Ellen Wilkinson, the minister of education has decided that the Old Vic should have a priority anyway. The Old Vic, which has been the home of Shakespeare in Britain for nearly half a century and the centre of some brilliant theatrical experiments, was badly damaged by enemy action in May, 1941.

Miss Wilkinson said there might be some criticism of the fact that a license had been granted for repairs to the theatre but, she said, "we should have our Old Vic open again to cheer us up."

Miss Wilkinson spoke at the opening of the Old Vic Theatre School where many of Britain's best actors and actresses are trained. Mr. Lawrence Olivier also spoke and advised the students to grow in their profession like trees—gradually and in all directions.

DESPITE the shortage of manpower, the government has decided the plan to raise Britain's school age to 15 will go into effect. It means some 150,000 children, who would end their schooling on April 1st, will have another year under teacher ahead of them.

The suggestion for postponement came not only from industrialists, it was made also by others who considered that the shortage of school buildings and teachers would merely be accentuated by the change and that the education of all would suffer.

Against this, however, other educationalists maintained that the step should be taken now because the excuses against it would increase in force rather than diminish and that to postpone it would merely be falling into the trap which others have fallen into for many years now.

THE RECORDS OFFICE has celebrated the New Year with an exhibition of notable documents from the year 1547, when Henry VIII died. Bills of the King's apothecary covering the period of the King's last illness, an abortive treaty with France and a letter from the girl who was later to be Queen Elizabeth to Catharine Parr.

If 1547 was a notable year, 1647 was also for during it the Civil War came to an end; 1747 was notable for the passing of Act of Pardon after the Rebellion of '45; while 1847 was distinguished for the activities in Brussels of two exiled Germans—Karl Marx and Friedrich Engels—who spent the last months of the year preparing the Communist Manifesto. It was in this year also that Sir John Franklin failed in his attempt to solve the mystery of the Northwest passage.

Edmonton Did It

Correspondence in

The Ottawa Citizen

The city of Edmonton is the easiest place in which to find one's way about. A building located at, say 9712-106 street is on the west side of 108 street, just north of 97th avenue, similarly 9812-108 street is exactly one block north, since the house numbers proper (the last two digits) start from 1 again after every cross-street. Even numbers appear consistently on the houses on the north side of avenues and on the west side of streets. Avenues run east-west, while streets run north-south, and their numbers increase in value as one proceeds northward or westward, respectively.

Toward the end of his letter Mr. Duguay states, "To inaugurate such a scheme would obviously present insurmountable difficulties in a city where streets already bear names." However, Edmonton's streets were not ever thus. Before me as I write is a map of Edmonton dated 1912 on which a large percentage of the streets and avenues are designated by name only, and those numbers which appear are not the numbers in use today. In addition to the name-to-number redundancy, there was the unfortunate fact that the streets were not laid out in a perfect city-wide grid. For example, between 107th and 118 avenues, two more avenues run west from 121st street than run east from it, analogous to the mismatches along Bank street or Laurier avenue east. In the east of Edmonton, immediately north of the river, most of the streets are on a bias and occasionally fan shaped. Crescents and diagonal streets appear here and there.

If Edmonton under these difficulties could fit a satisfactory numbering system to her streets, so can Ottawa—which should be Canada's exemplary city in all respects.

THIS WANT AD CAN BE DUPLICATED 9334 TIMES IN CANADA

As of April 1st, National Employment Service figures showed approximately 9,334 veterans in the older age group in Canada, registered for employment but unemployed. Of these, 2,493 saw service in both World War I and World War II. Another 6,841 fought in the 1914-1918 War only, but during World War II, they made their contribution to victory in Canada's war industries. Today, they are looking for employment. Many offer employers a good background of skills—all are men with a high degree of responsibility and integrity.

IT'S A MATTER OF DOLLARS AND CENTS

In Canada's total population, according to the last Dominion census, only 18% are males in the age group between 20 and 45. If production, on which Canada's prosperity is based, is to be maintained, this country cannot afford to discard a large proportion of those in the age brackets outside this group. Canada's older veterans who have served this country well are anxious to continue to serve it. They do not want to be retired from the labour market on War Veterans' or other state allowances. It is good business for employers to use the productive capacity of this older age group.

HERE ARE THE FACTS

Pension Plans—Under the normal pension plan, the employer's contribution for an employee starting at age 40, averages 7 1/2%. For one starting at age 25, the employer's contribution is 5%. The additional cost of hiring a proportion in the older bracket, therefore is not great.

Group Insurance—The difference in premiums between an employee 25 years of age and one 40 years, is $1.58 per thousand per year.

Productive Capacity—Surveys by the automobile, textile and steel industries show the most productive years are those between 45 and 54.

Liability to Accidents—Surveys by compensation and other agencies prove the accident rate among the older groups is much less. Highest accident rate is found in the group of 20 to 24 years.

New Electric Marker Checks Exam Papers

School students have long had the idea that those who marked final examination papers were mechanically hearted, with gimlet eyes, who inexorably as time and surely as fate, decided whether a scholar had made a success of his studies in the last year.

"A MACHINE would do it better," they opined. Well, it's happened. A machine is doing it for the examination branch of the Alberta department of education.

International Business Machines, the company that perfected the mechanical marker, is convinced the machine will do better than human eyes and hands.

THE MACHINE is a simple looking black desk-like affair, with a few knobs, a swinging needle which darts back and forth and a couple of switches.

There's a little slot into which the operator inserts the exam paper. The student's name shows as the paper rests in this slot.

A knob is twisted—there's a buzzing sound—and the pointer indicates on a dial the number of correct answers on the paper. The operator, whose right hand is entirely free, marks the resulting figure on the sheet.

SHE PRESSES another button—a click and a whirr—and the paper disappears, to be later gathered up with its companion papers from the bottom of the machine.

During a demonstration Monday, the operator of the machine was just learning how it worked. She was marking papers submitted in a recent Grade VI review test. For purposes of experiment she was also switching the machine to show how many wrong answers there were on each paper.

Under ordinary circumstances the operation would be speeding by asking the machine only for the correct answers.

"Clerks of average ability have secured from eight to 14 scores a minute," literature with the machine boasts.

But the machine won't detect grammatical errors in Johnny's essay—it won't correct his essay at all, nor will it score papers to which arithmetical answers are required.

It calls for a special type of paper known to the teaching profession as the "objective" test. This is that type of test where a question is asked and several alternative answers are given. The student is expected to mark the right answer.

EACH of the possible answers to a question is numbered, and on the page opposite there appears a similar number followed by a pair of vertical lines. The student indicates which is the correct answer by filling in the space between the vertical lines with his pencil. It takes only a single pencil stroke to do this.

Experts installing the machine pointed out that if a student hesitates and puts as much as a dot between a pair of lines which do not indicate the correct answer, he should erase the dot. Otherwise it will confuse the machine. They said the machine "senses" the dot.

The machine works on the principle that the pencil marks form an electrical circuit which registers on the dial. That's the simplest way to explain it.

Wartime Bombers Declared Surplus

MONTREAL, April 22 (CP)—A large number of Lancasters and Liberators originally costing more than $75,000,000 have been declared surplus to War Assets Corporation by the Royal Canadian Air Force. It was announced here yesterday. The War surplus Lancasters are located in the Alberta region, while the Liberators are at Abbotsford, B.C., Lethbridge, Alta., and Debert, N. S.

Ex-Vimy Resident Is Dead at Coast

VICTORIA, April 22 (CP)—Joseph Arthur Morin, 64, who came here nine months ago from Vimy, Alta., where he lived for 40 years, died Sunday. He was a native of Quebec. Surviving are his wife and two daughters, Mrs. L. G. Nelson of Clyde, Alta., and Mrs. R. M. Dusseault, Victoria.

CALEB ALBERT RUSSELL

Two-War Veteran Dies in Hospital

Caleb Albert (Bert) Russell 7833 111 avenue veteran of the First World War, and the South African War, and a well-known city resident, died Sunday in the Colonel Mewburn Pavilion. He was 64 years old.

MR. RUSSELL had been in ill health for a year, but his death was unexpected, and was due to a heart attack.

He was born at Lewes, Sussex, England in 1883, and as a lad served with the British Army in South Africa. He came to Canada in 1914, joined the 49th Battalion on its mobilization and went to France with the regiment. He was severely wounded in the Third battle of Ypres on June 2, 1915. During his stay overseas he married Miss Hetty Bond at Shorncliffe, Kent, England in 1915. He returned to Edmonton in 1916, and took up residence in South Edmonton.

Prior to his retirement in February 1940, he was the custodian of the South Side library, and was often addressed by "hello library."

He won numerous awards in gardening. He was with the library for 22 years, and his retirement was necessitated by war disabilities.

HE WAS a member of the Canadian Legion and the 49th Battalion, Association, and had been awarded the Queen's South African medal and bar.

He is survived by Mrs. Russell, three sons, Cpl. Bill Russell, RC AF, Donald, and Cay of Edmonton, two sisters, Mrs. H. C. Cable of Edmonton, and Mrs. J. Riley of High Wycombe, England.

A funeral service will be held on Wednesday at 2 p.m. in the Holy Trinity church. The Rev. Canon W. M. Nainby will officiate. Hainstock and Son funeral home is in charge of arrangements. Burial will take place in the Soldiers Plot, Edmonton Cemetery.

prison just before they were to go to the gallows.

FOUR COACHES of the train, which was heavily loaded, were reported wrecked by the blast, attributed to a series of electrically operated mines.

The British spokesman blamed the mining on Irgun Zvai Leumi, militant Jewish underground organization which had threatened vengeance for the execution of its members last week.

The train was the regular morning "Egypt Express," which normally carries large numbers of troops and officers returning from leave to duty in Palestine. After the blast hidden gunmen were reported to have sprayed the train with grenades and small arms fire, which was returned by the troops.

MEANWHILE, tension was heightened by an official report that British naval vessels were escorting to Haifa the refugee ship Shair Yishuv, loaded with about 800 Jews lacking immigration certificates. The ship was intercepted and boarded off the Palestine coast.

Earlier, officials disclosed two condemned Jewish extremists had committed suicide in Jerusalem prison a short time before they were scheduled to go to the gallows.

THE PAIR—Meyer Feinstein and Moshe Baratz—cheated the hangman by hugging explosives to their breasts and blowing themselves up. How they obtained the explosives was unexplained.

Telephone Strikers Agree to Truce

MINNEAPOLIS, April 22 (AP)—Striking telephone workers early today agreed to a truce until 8 a.m. Wednesday in mass picketing tactics which the telephone company said in a statement last night had shut down all long distance service here and imperilled operation of five local exchanges.

Mayor Hubert Humphrey announced the pact after a 16-hour conference in his offices. He said it came in return for a telephoned promise he had from John Kremers, vice-president of the Northwestern Bell Telephone at Omaha, to start bargaining with the strikers on a five-state regional basis there at 8 a.m. today, including Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and the two Dakotas.

CNR Annual Report

material prices will be 10 per cent higher. Thus operating costs will be some $30,000,000 greater than in 1946.

Because of these facts, he said, the directors approved CNR participation with other Canadian railways in making application to the Board of Transport Commissioners for an increase in freight rates.

The report gave this picture of CNR's 1946 operating results as compared with the previous year:

	1946	1945
Operating revenues	$400,586,025.89	$433,773,393.56
Operating expenses	$357,236,718.29	$355,294,048.48
Net operating revenue	$43,349,307.60	$78,479,345.08
Taxes, equipment and joint facility rents	11,780,360.40	10,801,406.83
Net railway operating income	$31,568,947.20	$67,677,938.25
Other income	4,180,579.72	3,206,334.49
Interest on funded debt—public	23,338,514.18	26,021,784.56
Interest on government loans	21,322,583.23	20,306,338.18
Deficit for 1946	$9,861,570.49
Surplus for 1945		24,756,130.00

THE REPORT disclosed that passenger train service decreased 31.4 per cent in miles and $17,267,000 in revenue as compared with 1945 while revenue from grain carriage slumped $14,726,000. It said the decreases in these two sources of revenue accounted in the main for the reduction in gross receipts.

The fact that passenger miles decreased 31.4 per cent and revenue from fares 23.1 per cent while train miles decreased only 4.1 per cent and passengers per car mile slumped 20 per cent reflected a change in the type of passenger traffic.

Although freight car loads were greater by 2.6 per cent than in 1945, revenue decreased 5.1 per cent and tons hauled by 1.2 per cent. The average length of the haul was down by 9.8 per cent and the volume of grain less by 27 per cent. These conditions and a change in the character of commodities carried resulted in a lighter per car load of 7.3 per cent and net train load of 7.3 per cent.

"THIS CONDITION—more cars carrying lighter loads for shorter distances—was one of the factors which made it impossible to reduce costs in proportion to the reduction in revenues," the president said.

Wage increases granted during the year to the average of 105,333 employees with an annual payroll of $237,333,761, added to operating costs and cost of fuel and materials continued to rise "resulting in an estimated increase in operating costs of $4,338,000 as compared with the previous year."

Labor costs increased 37.1 per cent between 1939 and 1946 and the cost of materials by 35.9 per cent during the same period. The additional operating costs in 1946 due to higher wage rates and material prices as compared with the 1939 price level, the report estimated to total $88,767,000.

CANADIAN NATIONAL Railways' capital expenditure during the year amounted to $16,309,797 and new equipment included 16 diesel-electric locomotives and 856 box cars.

In September the lines of the Manitoba Railway Company, which had been under long-term lease, were purchased for $7,000,000 resulting in an annual saving of $100,000.

A bright spot in the report were figures for Canadian National Express. Total number of shipments during the year was 18,937,707, an increase of 1,873,991 over 1945 and the report said traffic handled and revenues earned were the "largest in the history of the department."

Canadian National Telegraphs handled more telegrams and cablegrams than in any previous year, the total exceeding 20,000,000.

During the year the company re-opened its traffic office in Hong Kong and established a new office in Calcutta.

FOLLOWING a decision that the company would undertake its own testing of materials, a chemical and physical laboratory has been established in Montreal.

Freight Probe

Interest of $44,200,000, plus an item of $16,777,000 for additions and improvements to railway property.

Had the 30-per cent increases asked by the railways been in effect all this year, the CNR estimated, net income would be $60,468,000, or about $800,000 less than all requirements of the system.

WITH THE INCREASE, gross railway income would be $397,415,000, compared with the estimate of $348,100,000 without it. In each case, operating expenses were calculated at $330,900,000.

The figure for operating expense is up more than $20,000,000 from the $310,111,000 spent by the CNR last year. At the same time, the estimated gross operating revenues at current rate would be down about $3,600,000.

Even without the rate increase, freight income was expected to jump about $10,000,000, but passenger revenue was expected to go down $9,000,000 and a drop of $4,000,000 was looked for in miscellaneous income.

BIGGEST DROP in passenger traffic was an expected decline of $7,500,000 in military transport revenue. The CNR also estimated it would lose $1,500,000 due to increased competition from highway and airplane travel.

T. J. Gracey, assistant CNR controller, told the board that besides the system's plans to spend $16,777,000 in additions and improvements to property, it had a 1947 program of $28,500,000 for new equipment.

Troubles?

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—(AP)—If you think you have troubles, listen to those of Raymond Hoffman, Southern Pacific Railroad machinist, and his wife.

They have 15-month-old triplets, Dennis, Donna and Diane. They have been notified they must vacate their house.

Mrs. Hoffman expects motherhood again, in June. And her doctor says it will be twins!

"Pugilism" comes from the Latin "pugil," which means fighting with clenched fists.

Canadians Can Give To Texas Aid Fund

OTTAWA, April 22.—(CP)—Donations to relief funds, such as the Texas City relief fund, can be made directly through banks for amounts up to $100. Foreign Exchange Control Board officials said yesterday. Asked whether there was any regulation against shipping such funds out of the country, the officials said that in cases where donations of more than $100 were intended the bank had to apply in the board for permission. However, the application was actually a "mere formality," and it was unlikely any bona fide donation for relief outside the Dominion would be refused.

JUICY PLAY-OFF REWARDS GO TO LEAFS, CANADIENS

TORONTO, April 22 (CP)—Manager Conn Smythe of the world hockey champion Toronto Maple Leafs last night announced the distribution of the juiciest play-off financial rewards in the club's history.

Under the National Hockey League's new play-off financial system each club in the Stanley Cup final—Leafs and Montreal Canadiens—get $2,500 for each of 18 players.

BUT THE TORONTO CLUB HAS contributed $10,000 to provide for 25 full shares. Each of 19 players and Coach Happy Day get a $2,500 share. The two other shares, a total of $5,000, are split between Trainer Tim Daly and several other assistants of the Toronto club.

From the league, Canadiens received $1,000 for finishing first in the league schedule, $1,000 for winning their semi-final round, and $500 for entering the final.

Leafs received $500 for finishing second in the league, $1,000 for winning their semi-final, and $1,000 for winning the final.

THE $2,500 SHARES TO TORONTO players included the 16 who were dressed for the final game—Turk Broda, Gus Mortson, Jimmy Thomson, Garth Bosch, Bill Barilko, Syl Apps, Henry Watson, Bill Ezinicki, Ted Kennedy, Howie Meeker, Vic Lynn, Gus Bodnar, Don Metz, Gage Stewart, Joe Klukay and Bud Polle. The others getting full shares are Nick Metz, Wally Stanowski, Bob Goldham and coach Happy Day.

In comparison with baseball—last fall the champion St. Louis Cardinals received $3,742 for each player as the winner's cut in the world series. The losers, Boston Red Sox, got $2,059 per player.

Canadians Fete Junior, Pee Wee Hockey Champs

Canadian Athletic Club feted its hockey champions and paid a glowing tribute to its late president, Ralph Blackmer, last night.

Trophies were presented to the Junior 'B' team which captured the provincial crown by defeating Coleman two straight in the final, and the Ritchie Pee Wee, who copped the Northern Alberta title.

HERB SHIRES, who succeeded Mr. Blackmer as head of the organization, lauded the teams for their hockey prowess and termed the past season a great success.

Bill Huff, vice-president of the Alberta Hockey Association, called for a new deal for junior hockey next year. He said Sunday hockey had been denied the boys and suggested that a concerted effort be made to get the organization back to the arena.

DERRY DERKINGTON described Ralph Blackmer as the hardest worker of the executive on hockey, baseball and rugby football, and as a man whose whole life was wrapped up in the athletic club, particularly where the younger players were concerned.

Art Potter, president of the Edmonton District Hockey Association, presented the trophy to Gerry Palmer, captain of the junior team, and Russ Sheppard, radio sports commentator, presented the CJCA trophy to Don Fraser, captain of the Pee Wee.

Personnel of the champion teams: JUNIORS—Doug Ringrose, Gerry Palmer, Bob (Bobo) Fleming, Manoly Lupul, Walter Lupul, Alex Romanuk, Doug McClocklin, Glen Bjorneson, Ken Calvert, Henry Eccles, Ian MacDougall, Jack Bradshaw, Min Demers, Bob Gillies, (coach), and Aiger Calvert, manager.

PEE WEES—Gordon Werry, Denny Locken, Ted Gosche, Laurie Hodgson, Bill Geary, Babe McAvoy, Glen Stone, Jack Lyndon, Frank McMillan, Bob Cook, Don Fraser, Frank Fowler, Jack Hunter, Don MacAdie, Gilbert Myler, Lorne Vereggin, Rudy Frederick, (coach), and Jim MacAdie, manager.

Coach Rudy Frederick was the recipient of a gift from the Pee Wees.

Two sports films were shown after the banquet.

PLEASED AS PUNCH: Don Fraser, who is shown clutching the CJCA trophy emblem of pee wee hockey supremacy in the north, couldn't appear much happier if Santa Claus had just dropped in and presented him with a nice new automobile. Don was captain of the Ritchie club and had just been presented with the trophy by Russ Sheppard, radio sports commentator, when the picture was snapped at the Canadian Athletic Club banquet. In the bottom photo Art Potter, president of the Edmonton District Hockey Association, is shown presenting the championship trophy to Gerry Palmer, captain of the junior 'B' team, which won the provincial title.

Montreal Increases Lead Over Hamilton

Royals Shade Tigers By 3-1 In East Final

By Bert Allen

MONTREAL, April 22 (CP)—The Montreal Royals last night defeated the old Hamilton Tigers 3-1, and took a 2-0 lead in games in their best-of-five series for the eastern Canada senior amateur hockey championship.

Veteran goalie Ari Childs in the Hamilton goal kept the Royals' sharpshooters at bay for two periods with a sensational exhibition of puck-stopping, but his team wilted in the third period to allow the Montrealers to break through for three goals. Hamilton had scored the first goal at 19:28 of the first period. Dillon Brady netting a pass from Clarence Shillingham, and the second period was scoreless.

CHILD'S ROLLED, dived and sprawled to thwart all Montreal scoring forays for the first two frames as the Tigers held on doggedly to their 1-0 lead.

Tigers checked the Montrealers like leeches during the second session when Royals poured on the power plays but it was still Childs who had to block the flood of rubber when the Montreal forwards managed to break through the tight Hamilton defence.

Then at 5:34 of the third period the break came for Royals. Little Pete Morin worked his way from back of the Hamilton net and made a circle to get in front and then pushed the puck with sheer force under Childs' body. The Hamilton goalie ended up in the net himself as the crowd of 10,033 nearly tore the roof down.

JUST THREE MINUTES later Royals went ahead 2-1 when Hughie Barlow, recruited from Hamilton Pats of the senior OHA, let drive with a shot that went through a maze of legs and nestled in the cords behind Childs.

This goal seemed to take all the heart out of a weary band of Tigers as the goal-hungry Montrealers kept up their pressure attacks and Childs was given little protection from the buzzing Royals' forwards.

MONTREAL'S THIRD goal came with only 38 seconds remaining on a breakaway as Gerry Plamondon raced up centre and batted in Morin's rebound.

The shots on goal just about tell the story. Childs, faced about 43 drives while McNeill was tested only 17 times, and most of these of the soft variety.

HAMILTON—Childs, Sherry, Laurin, Ronuma, Mason, Jacobbe, Subi, Dinning, Shillingham, Brady, J. Carlick, A. Crutch, Mironovich, Cadieux, K. A. Crutch, Mironovich, Cadieux, K. A. Crutch, Mironovich, Cadieux.

MONTREAL—McNeill, Gahraith, Harvey, Campeau, Plamondon, Malone, Kuba, Ruppelle, Curry, Loran, Cassant, Morin, Laforce, Barlow, Leclerc.

Officials—Arnie Peterkin and Stan Pratt, Ottawa.

FIRST PERIOD: 1-Hamilton, Brady (Shillingham) 19:28. Penalty—Sherry.

SECOND PERIOD: Scoring—None.

THIRD PERIOD: 2-Montreal, Morin (Cassant, Lucas) 5:34. 3-Montreal, Barlow (Curry, Ruppelle) 8:33. 4-Montreal, Plamondon (Morin, Campeau) 19:22. Penalties—Laurin, Loran, Cadieux.

BULLETIN

Horn Again President Junior Baseball Loop

Phil Horn will again head junior ball in the city, having accepted the presidency of the Edmonton Junior Baseball League for the ensuing year.

Russ Sheppard is the new vice-president of the circuit and Gavin Breckenridge was named secretary-treasurer at the re-organization meeting held Monday night.

THE FIVE CLUB loop comprised of CNR (Calder), and teams from each of the four athletic clubs—Maple Leaf, Canadian, Edmonton and South Side—will open the season with a doubleheader at Clarke Stadium diamond on May 18.

Plans call for games on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays in addition to Sunday, with week-day fixtures to commence at 7 o'clock.

ADDITIONAL bleacher accommodation at the junior baseball plant is one of the improvements hoped for this year.

Increased activity in juvenile ball is anticipated this season, the boosting of the junior age to 20, automatically extending the juvenile age limit and thus providing additional opportunity for that group.

Canadiens Buy Edmonton Star

MONTREAL, April 22 (CP)—Coach Dick Irvin and his Montreal Canadiens left last night for western Canada, where the Habitués will play an exhibition series with an all-star National Hockey League squad and the silver skipper will keep a canny eye cocked for possible material for rebuilding his ex-champions next year.

Canadiens, who won the NHL title four years in a row and the Stanley Cup twice in that time, lost the trophy to Toronto Maple Leafs in Toronto Saturday night.

CANADIENS ARE DUE to reach Winnipeg Wednesday morning, and will play the first game that night at Regina against hand-picked stars from the five other NHL clubs.

Tom Rockey, with Winnipeg Monarchs last season and Houston of the United States Hockey League this season, will join Canadiens at Winnipeg Bobby Carre, purchased from Cleveland of the American Hockey League last week, also may join the team there.

FRANK SELKE, Canadiens manager, said last night that despite Canadiens' defeat, Irvin has lost no prestige with the team's management and he will be welcomed back next winter. His present contract calls for another year as coach, and he discussed plans yesterday with Canadiens' management.

Theatre Bowlers Wind Up Season

The Edmonton Theatre Five Pin Bowling League held its 12th annual banquet and dance in the club Roosevelt recently with about 150 guests attending. League President R. Keil presented the prizes the cup going to Rialto "A", and second prize to Capital "B".

The winner of the first half play-offs was Rialto "A", and in the second half Capital "B" finished first.

PRIZES WERE ALSO presented to the following individuals for their exhibitions of exceptional skill: Harry Roebuck, men's high average (191); Ruby Edwards, Ladies' high average (175); Virgil Skinner, men's high double (544); Ida Charlesworth, ladies' high double (492); Billy Wilson, men's high single (320); Maureen O'Doherty, ladies' high single (301); "Scotty" Boggs, men's low score (7); Joyce Bellamy, ladies' low score (you guess).

Rossdale Tennis Officers Chosen

Rossdale Community League's tennis club has organized for the season and a committee of six headed by "Spud" Moir has been named.

H. Chisholm is treasurer, the other members being D. Worthington, B. Kasting, L. Clark and Mrs. M. Pepin.

Improvements to the recreation park and courts are planned and a separate court for younger members is being considered. Further information may be obtained by phoning H. Chisholm at 21845.

Fastball Practices

All ex-service girls who are interested in playing on the Legionettes softball team are asked to be at McDougall high school gym at 8 o'clock tonight.

The South Side senior girls' softball team will hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday evening at 10231 108 street, with Coach Mike Panchyshyn in charge. All team members and others interested are requested to be on hand.

Boyle Street Community softball practices will commence this week. The practice schedule calls for bantam and midget boys on Mondays and Thursdays, juvenile boys Mondays and Wednesdays and junior and senior girls Tuesdays and Fridays, the time being 6:30 p.m. in each case.

GRADS PLANNING REUNION IN JUNE

Celebrating the winning of their first Canadian championship just 25 years ago, the world-famous Edmonton Commercial Grads will hold a reunion in this city in June.

Although the team was organized in June, 1915, it was not until seven years later that the "Grads" went east and defeated the London Shamrocks in the first series ever played for the Canadian basketball championship, and the club executive is planning on bringing back to the city not only each member of the 1922 squad, but also every girl who has played on any of the Grad championship teams since that time. This will be the second reunion held by the club, the first being held in 1940 when inability to secure the Arena forced the team of the day to disband.

IT IS THE INTENTION of the executive to hold a reunion dinner at the Corona Hotel on Friday, June 12, and on the Sunday following, the girls and their families will hold a picnic at Williams' farm, Rabbit Hills. It is expected that other functions will also be staged in connection with the reunion, one of the Edmonton service clubs having already expressed a desire to have the girls as their guests at their regular weekly luncheon.

Digging into the record books, it is recalled that the following six girls comprised the first Canadian championship team: Winnie Martin, Dot and Daisy Johnson, Eleanor Mountfield, Connie Smith and Nellie Perry. Lack of funds made it necessary for the team to travel to London without a single spare pound, and it came as a distinct surprise to the home-town folks when the word was flashed back that the "Grads" had trimmed the highly-rated "Shamrocks" by a 20-point margin in a two-game series.

THE FOLLOWING YEAR Edmonton got its first taste of big-time basketball, when the "Grads" again took the Shamrocks into camp, and followed up that series by challenging the then world's champions—the Cleveland Favorite Knits. This series was the first international contest ever played in the Arena. Without the necessary financial backing to bring the Clevelanders to Edmonton, the Grads found it necessary to call upon the late "Deacon" Whyte, prominent Edmonton sportsman, to underwrite the series.

FROM THAT TIME, the Grads were very definitely "in", and went forward to victory after victory, including four trips to the Olympic Games held in Paris, Amsterdam, Los Angeles and Berlin. During the 25-year period the Grads played 522 games, winning 502 of them, for a record without

Says Cleveland Arena To Be Sold

CLEVELAND, April 22 (AP)—The Cleveland News said yesterday the Arena, local sports palace which houses American Hockey League games, prize fights, basketball tilts and other shows, was "on the verge of being sold" to a syndicate of sportsmen for a price ranging between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000.

PRINCIPAL BIDDERS for the prosperous arena, the News said, included Lou Jacobs, concession company president who owns the AHL franchise at Buffalo, N. Y., and Oscar Johnson, owner of the Portland, Ore., Pacific Coast League hockey franchise and partner in the Shiptad-Johnson Ice Folies.

However, in Buffalo, Jacobs said he was not "involved" in any such deal. Jacobs said it would be "impossible" for him to own both the Buffalo and the Cleveland franchise in the American Hockey League.

Al Sutphin, president of the arena corporation and Cleveland Barons hockey team, said the syndicate had made a "suitable" financial offer, but that other details of the transaction would have to be negotiated, the paper reported.

JACOBS, WHO ALSO has holdings in race tracks and minor league baseball, is expected to be principal owner after the sale of the arena, including the franchises of the Barons, Cleveland Rebels' pro cage team and corporation's holdings in ice shows, is completed, the News said.

The paper also said Maurice Podoloff of New Haven, Conn., president of the American Hockey League and the Basketball Association of America, was expected to serve as manager of the arena after completion of the sale.

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP)—The rain and cold weather that washed out all but two of yesterday's major league baseball games left Chicago White Sox in the uncustomed limelight of first place in the American League.

Tigers Beat Wolves For Cage Honors

Tigers are junior girls' basketball champs of the city. The overtime 34-30 victory over the Wolves decided the issue at the McDougall Gym last night. The Wolves, led by nine points at one time during the last quarter, the Wolves saw their lead dwindle until a mere two points separated them from their hard-fighting rivals, the Tigers. Then Joyce Westell let one go from the centre floor and the court was tied at 26-26. The ball went and the referees ordered extra time.

THE BARGAIN SESSION

went 6-2 for the winners and Joyce Westell collected two more baskets to drive the Wolves out of the picture. Frances Farley of the Tigers had contributed 15 tallies to lead the parade for the all-important contest. Doris Bohme of the losers got nine. Joyce Westell was next with eight, and Iris Hagerman and Olive Williams of the Wolves trailing with seven each.

Berry Given Chance To Erase Ring Blotch

Jack Berry, sharp-punching Edmonton fighter who has but one black mark on his record, will have a chance to erase that blemish Wednesday night when he clashes with Johnny Kos.

Berry dropped a decision to rugged Johnny of Calgary three months ago and since then has hurried three challenges at the lad from the Foothills City. Johnny accepted the last one, so their feud will be resumed at the Alberta Avenue sports pavilion, 117th ave. and 95th st. tomorrow.

KOS' RUGGED, aggressive

style threw Berry off balance in their first encounter, but the Edmonton boy learned a lot from that test and feels confident he can outbox and outfox Johnny this time. Their previous engagement stole the show, so they have been promoted to the top spot on this card.

Johnny has already predicted that he will stop Jack within five rounds, and is confident the bout won't go the 10-round limit. "One of us will be flattened before that time," he said.

The semi-wrapup brings together Wilf Desjardins, aggressive Winnipeg boxer who has clinched up an enviable record in Seattle,

Bivins Wins

Arise

The first meeting of the Society for the Preservation of the Bath-tub will be held as soon as I can get somebody else interested in joining. I "bonies" being president because it's my idea.

This society will launch a virulent campaign against all believers in the shower. We believe that people who boast about taking quick showers are a menace to the last peaceful retreat of mankind, namely, the bathtub. Pickets will gather at my place, where song sheets will be handed out to be followed by a wienie roast.

A blacklist is being prepared of all known quick shower addicts who threaten our way of life. A very blacklist of cold shower-takers will be considered.

Committees will be struck (but not hard) to investigate all plumbing concerns which are selling bathtubs measuring less than five feet in length, obviously cunningly designed to be stood in.

Won't Invite Them

Sharp, anonymous letters will be sent to these concerns warning them that if they do not desist from this matter they must accept the consequences, and, anyway, we won't invite them to the big wienie roast.

In my inaugural address I will touch humorously on the joys of a real, old-fashioned hot bath like the kind mother used to take. Some pretty risqué lantern slides (tinted) will go with this, so you won't want to miss it. Besides, those wienies look mighty tempting.

I will also flail, accuse, attack, rap, castigate, condemn and scold all people who are known shower-takers. These athletes, over-excited people are undermining our democratic right to spend as much time as we like lolling in the bathtub. We will give them what for.

Large cash donations may be sent by mail.

Farmers Guests At Kiwanis Meet

Farmers were guests of the Kiwanis Club when that organization held its annual agricultural meeting in the Macdonald Hotel Monday. R. M. Putnam, director of agricultural extension for Alberta, delivered a speech on "Advantages of Livestock Production in Northern Alberta."

THE MEETING was sponsored by the clubs agricultural committee, of which Cliff Gainer is chairman.

"Association of agriculture with business is good," declared Mr. Putnam, who explained that farming is becoming more of a business and also is changing to a city-like environment.

He said Alberta has a number of advantages for livestock production. The central section had the richest soil in the province and probably in the world.

Alberta is a dairy country without a doubt, said Mr. Putnam, but this industry depends on pasture crop. During the depression it was the weekly cream can that kept farms going.

BEEF PRODUCTION, he explained depends on abundant supplies of wheat and for that reason, beef cattle are found in wheat favorable regions.

Favorable transportation service, good packing plants, good breeding and helpful organizations, all give a lift to a better agricultural industry in Alberta, Mr. Putnam stated.

Varsity Rejects Library Request

A renewed request to Dr. Robert Newlin, president, University of Alberta, for establishment of a library school in the university again has been refused, according to Edmonton Public Library Board, at a meeting in the library Monday night.

IT WAS SUGGESTED that if no action was taken by the university, the library should establish its own course for staff training.

A request from the Gray School and the Jasper Place Home and School Association, regarding library bus stops was received. A committee was appointed to study the matter and establish the most convenient stops for the buses.

Miss Anna Malone submitted her resignation as head of the circulation department, effective June 1.

Dealers Will Meet For Annual Reports

The regular meeting of the Radio and Appliance Dealers, northern regional committee branch of the Retail Merchants Association will be held Thursday, April 24, at 8 p.m. in the YMCA.

A complete report on the last year's activities will be given, and also a complete report on the joint meeting of the Committee with the wholesalers held some time ago.

W. P. Clayton, president, will be guest speaker. He will give a report on the Toronto national executive meeting held first week in April. Jack Jewell, chairman, will preside.

High School Play

The Victoria High School drama club will present a series of one act plays from April 24 to 26, commencing at 8:15 p.m. The plays will be staged in the school auditorium. "Where the Cross is Made," will be the main play presented each night, with one different accompanying one-act play.

Gas Company Obtains Supply English Pipe

Arrangements were completed in England recently by H. R. Milner, K.C., president of Northwestern Utilities Ltd., for the purchase of 40 miles of 16 inch pipe costing approximately $1,000,000, for extensions of the company's pipe line. Mr. Milner announced the purchase on his return to Edmonton. Delivery of this pipe will start in January, 1948.

Enthusies Over North Prospects

Enthusiastic over the outlook for development of the great mineral riches of the far north, Lt. Col. James K. Cornwall, DSO, well known northern pioneer, is in Edmonton following a visit to Ottawa.

Known far and wide as "Peace River Jim," he will visit a few days in Edmonton before returning to his home on the Pacific coast but plans to go back north as soon as the spring breakup takes place.

Although he said he was not at liberty to make an announcement, which will come in due course from federal authorities, he is certain that northerners will benefit by construction of new roads in the north this summer.

"The announcement will likely be coming from Ottawa in the near future," he said.

Legion to Check Housing Delays

The executive council of Montgomery Canadian Legion Branch No. 24, will hold a special meeting Tuesday afternoon to consider complaints of veterans concerning reported delays in the construction of Veterans Land Act houses on the former Grierson estate on the northeastern limits of the city.

Failure of contractors to complete some 50 dwellings is alleged to be holding back occupancy of many veterans and their families who are badly in need of housing.

President Percy Gwynne of Branch No. 24 called the meeting.

Intermediate School Pupils Dominate Festival Opening

Intermediate school pupils played dominating roles at the Eastwood school on Monday, as the fourth annual non-competitive festival got underway.

About 400 pupils, representing McCauley school, H. A. Gray, Highlands and Spruce Avenue, were on hand, and participated in the opening proceedings.

Physical education exercises, massed chorus, folk dancing, bench exercises and tumbling for girls, were among the items demonstrated by the students. The new set-up met with a cordial reception from the teachers and pupils.

TEACHERS in charge of the classes were: McCauley, Miss Clyde Douglas and Miss Ada Wright; H. A. Gray, Miss Wilma Van Deelen; Highlands, Miss Evelyn Brown; Spruce Avenue,

Gas Company Obtains Supply English Pipe

Arrangements were completed in England recently by H. R. Mr. Milner announced the purchase on his return to Edmonton. Delivery of this pipe will start in January, 1948.

HE SAID the purchase had been made from Messrs. Stewart and Lloyds steel manufacturers, from whom the company purchased its heavy pipe prior to the war. "We have now re-established purchasing arrangements with this company, and will maintain the connection," Mr. Milner stated.

Details of the company's construction program for 1947 will be announced in the near future, he stated.

COMMENTING on conditions in England, Mr. Milner said, that the country is going through a very bad time. She has been bled by two wars, and is now suffering from the after effects of the tremendous strain of the second.

He said the food situation was not good, and because of the severe winter the crop prospects for this year are not bright. In addition to the crop situation, winter storms killed more than 1,300,000 sheep, and 30,000 beef cattle.

Some of the rich fen country will not be seeded this year, because of the extensive flood damage, and a great deal of winter wheat will not germinate. Consequently there is no hope of improvement in the food situation in Britain. The rations are adequate, but lack variety.

"The people of Britain are optimistic and are determined to make a comeback, and will make the grade," Mr. Milner stated. They are very anxious to maintain their export markets in Canada and the United States.

"The best help we can give Britain is to purchase the commodities the British people can export to Canada. It is particularly important that we in western Canada assist in Britain's recovery and thus maintain this ever-open market for our farm products," he said.

Weather will become warmer, and skies cloudy today. It will clear in the evening, and become cloudy again Wednesday. Light winds are prevailing.

The maximum temperature yesterday was 42 degrees above at 4 p.m. while the low was 27 above at 8:30 a.m. The overnight low was 21 degrees above at 5:30 a.m.

Estimated low temperature tonight is 30 degrees above. Expected high temperature Wednesday is 52 above.

Meeting Urges Higher Pensions

At a meeting of the Social Security League, held in the IOOF hall, Monday night, it was decided to send a delegation to the next city council meeting to ask council to request the Dominion government to pay a retirement pension of $60 at the age of 60, to all Canadian citizens. Council will be asked to send the resolution to other cities for endorsement.

Mrs. Edith Rogers, president, was in the chair. One hundred people were in attendance.

City Astronomers To Grind Mirrors

Members of the Edmonton centre, Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, are organizing under leadership of W. E. Mjolsness for grinding mirrors to make telescopes. A grinding machine, made by C. G. Wates and later donated to the university, is set up in the basement of the old University High School on 84 avenue near 112 street. A meeting of members interested in being held Thursday evening, April 24, at that address to make plans for the work. Others interested in participating in telescope making will be welcome at this meeting.

By DELLIS CLELAND

Tiny as a minute, and just as fleet, and appropriately nicknamed "Mighty Mouse" by her host of friends.

That's 19-year-old Edith Skitch, one of Edmonton's outstanding track and field stars, and a candidate for the Canadian Olympic team to take part in the first post-war games in London, Eng. 1948.

THIS NATURALLY curly-headed petite miss, who stands only five-feet high, and weighs an even hundred pounds already holds more than a dozen titles in track and field events including one Dominion, one British Columbia and 11 provincial and inter-scholastic. The Dominion and B.C. marks were made in equaling existing records. In addition she plays top form basketball, skis, is an accomplished pianist, and, in any spare time, makes her own attractive clothes.

To make the Olympic track and field team, she must run like the wind, scale high hurdles with effortless grace, leap wide stretches of the earth—these are the desires nearest her heart. This is how she would like to spend the summer training every day, at Clarke Stadium.

Part of the athletic prowess is inherited from a father and mother who are veteran sports men, and Mrs. Art Skitch, 10941 81 avenue. Experienced track and field man, "Dad" Skitch knows plenty about the gentle art of wrestling, and was formerly a member of the Eskimo rugby team. "Mom" grew up in England, and led her county in high jumping and running.

FOR EDITH, it all started at the age of 12. Dad promised his active offspring a pair of "spike shoes"—the metal cleat kind—if she won a race against a neighborhood playmate, the former Erna Hoffstetter. Little Edith didn't know much about running

On Social Worker's Speech:

Cross Says Criticism Not Worth Answering

"Not worth answering" was the terse comment of Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of public health and welfare, when asked about criticism levelled at his department by Dr. Charlotte Whitton, chairman of the IODE provincial welfare study, who spoke Monday at a meeting in Calgary.

DR. WHITTON'S opinions on child welfare in Alberta will not make the slightest difference in the conduct of his department, Dr. Cross said.

"We have no respect for her ability whatever," he added. "She is just a human talking machine. Nothing we can do can ever stop her talking. All she has ever done is talk. She has never had any responsibility for child welfare administration."

Research at the legislative buildings indicated little foundation for the allegation by Dr. Whitton that a great many children were being exported from the province. Only 35 out of the nearly 1,100 children for whom government assistance was required last year were sent out of the country, and in three previous years 76 out of 1,716 were "exported."

Persons interested in social welfare work in the city, but not those connected with established social service institutions were inclined to think that an effort is being made to have child placement work all done by private social agencies, to whom the government would give an annual grant.

This is the case, one local authority stated, in Vancouver—and it was thought a similar situation exists in Winnipeg.

INQUIRIES MADE at the American consulate showed that visas are issued to infants on the same basis as to adults.

Anyone making application for a visa must furnish proof that he will not become a charge on the United States, in the case of an infant, evidence must be furnished that those adopting the child are capable of attending to its physical and moral development.

The time it takes for the issuance of visas varies, occasionally the applicant furnishes all necessary evidence with application. The visa is then granted promptly. At other times if the American authorities are not satisfied there is delay until investigation has been made. "We don't look at it from the social service angle, but we must be satisfied that the destination of any person is suitable, and that they will not become a public charge," Paul S. Seddium, American consul said.

In her address, Mrs. Whitton laid charges against the child placement division of the department of public welfare that babies were being bartered before birth, that they were exported under the paid care of relatives of departmental officials, that wealth rather than any other consideration was the deciding factor in selection of foster parents, that one out of every ten adoptions being made by the department were for homes in foreign countries.

She asked for a "recasting" of the entire child welfare department.

Motorist Can Testify

Hanging Onto Rear Bumper Proves Strain on Man's Pants

By Jack Wilce

Hanging onto a run-away auto by the rear bumper is a losing tug-of-war, and strenuous on the seat of the pants, as one city motorist well knows after a trying experience Monday.

THIS MOTORIST, who told his story Tuesday morning and prefers to remain anonymous, made a gallant effort to haul back his auto on 111 avenue between 85A and 96 streets about 6 p.m. Monday.

He said he went to start his auto but the set starter button wasn't working so he reached under the hood of the car and made an adjustment which started the motor running smoothly. He then climbed back into his auto, pulled out the choke and put the vehicle into low gear. It stalled.

Once again he had to get out and get under, but this time he knew just the thing to touch to get the motor turning over in a jiffy.

Smartly he turned the little gadget beneath the hood, the motor roared into action—and so did the whole car—Mr. Motorist had left the choke out and the auto in gear.

AS THE AUTO passed him he grabbed the rear bumper and hung onto his auto. Then after being dragged 40 or 50 feet the vehicle hit a bump and got rid of the dragging passenger.

The auto sideswiped a passing truck and carried on. Then Paul Pasenko, of Paul's ambulance, spotted the vehicle speeding down the street. He chased after it and brought the auto to a stop.

Mr. Motorist said he is going to get the starter button fixed. Although he remains anonymous he can easily be identified the next few days by his red face.

Gets Six Months On Forgery Count

A desperate plea by a friend who said he would make restitution and be responsible for the accused's future actions did not save Patrick Murphy, Brule, from a six-month prison term when he appeared before Magistrate A. I. Miller, on a forgery charge in city police court Tuesday morning.

Evidence showed the accused had cashed a check last March for $65. Murphy had forged the names of L. Bricker and B. Bricker of Lavoie to the cheque.

In passing sentence the magistrate said "there is too much of this going on and we have to put a stop to it."

The Book of Knowledge (Department: Animal Life)

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

ANIMALS THAT NEVER WERE
Once upon a time many animals were supposed to have magical powers, and many strange animals that never existed were believed to live in the sea, or in distant lands.

One such mythical animal was the unicorn—a large horse with a single horn projecting straight out from its forehead. Men believed the horn had magical properties, and travelers went on long journeys in search of this animal which was said to roam in India, Arabia and Morocco.

The unicorn, it is believed, could not be hunted or trapped like any other beast. The hunter must disguise himself as a young girl, perfume his clothes and lie down in the haunts of the unicorn. The unicorn would then approach and, charmed with the sweet odor, would lay his head in the suppose to touch that it was very hard for a sword to pierce it. Most of the great countries of ancient times used the dragon in art as a symbol of strength. In early Christian legends the dragon (the spirit of evil) was said to have been killed by St. George, St. Martha and others. The dragon was a most important figure in Chinese legends. The emblem of the emperors of China was a dragon.

Our ancestors also believed that there were creatures called satyrs, which had the head, horns, legs and feet of goats and the bodies of men. Today when we speak of the sphinx, we think of that great image in the sands of Egypt. In the old days, however, the sphinx was a thing of real terror to men. They thought it was an actual living creature—an animal with a human head and face, the body of a lion, the wings of a giant bird, and the tail of a dragon.

But the griffin was still more to be feared. This was a creature which had the head and neck of an eagle a hundred times enlarged, ed maiden's lap and fall asleep. Thereupon the hunter had to grasp the horn with a single powerful wrench, pull it out! The belief was that out of the horn a drinking cup could be made and that poisoned wine drunk from it lost the power to harm.

How men of the Middle Ages, and later, managed to impose such a story upon their hearers is not for us to decide. They actually produced what they called the "horn of the unicorn." A writer of the time of Queen Elizabeth mentioned one which he saw at the Queen's court. It was worth 10,000 pounds, he said, which in our time would be about $250,000. What really was this unicorn's horn? It was probably the spiral horn, or tusk of the narwhal! Of course, it had no magical properties.

The most astonishing beasts of fable and legend were dragons or huge reptiles, some of which could fly. The fabulous dragons breathed fire and this fiery breath was poisonous. Their bodies were covered with scales forming an armor.

and the body of a lion eight times as big as that of an ordinary lion. Allies with a griffin (or gryphon) in Wonderland.

We must not forget the phoenix. This was a marvelous bird, sacred to the sun. It was as big as an eagle, with brilliant golden plumage round the neck, while the rest of the body was a purple color. The tail was composed of long, brilliantly colored feathers. Here, undoubtedly, we have the golden pheasant, which we may see any day at the zoo. It is not as big as an eagle; it does not rise alive from its own ashes; it does not live 540 years—all of which was believed at one time. But the brilliant golden pheasant otherwise answers the descriptions which the old naturalists gave the phoenix. Probably some one of them did see a golden pheasant, then very rare in Europe, and wove a tale of marvel and magic and mystery round it.

Mother Tells Groom Father Steers Bride

When their children are about to be married, practically all parents have a belated impulse to take them aside and give them loads of good advice about how to make a success of the holy estate. This is all to the good. Heaven knows the youngsters need all the tips they can get about how to keep out of the divorce courts.

For the amazing thing about marriage is that it is a constant surprise. It is never like the bride and bridegroom thought it would be. It calls for an entirely different technique from the one they dreamed out in the days of courtship, and so any helpful hints on how to avoid getting in each other's hair and to walk high, wide and handsome around each other's peculiarities, is a godsend.

So-o-o-o it is undeniable that the newlyweds are in dire need of whatever wise counsel Father and Mother can give them on how to be happy though married. The advice is all right, but the trouble is that the wrong people give it. For Mother hands out her little packet of admonitions to daughter and Father wises up son on how to be a wife-tamer, when it should be the other way around.

NEITHER ONE speaks by the book, for no woman knows what qualities a man wants in a wife, nor does any man know what makes a man an ideal husband in his wife's eyes. All that the poor creature can do is to guess at it, and sometimes they hit the mark and oftener they miss it, and get most on their mates' nerves when they are trying hardest to please.

Hence, the only qualified matrimonial seer is one of the opposite sex from the seeker after wisdom, for he or she speaks from experience. He or she alone knows what makes a man a good husband, or a woman a good wife.

So it is Mom who should say to her son on his bridal eve: "It is a terrible thing to take a young girl's life into your hands, so be careful about how you handle it. Be good to her. Don't think you have done your duty to your wife when you feed and clothe her. She can earn her own board and keep. What she depends on you for is tenderness, kindness and understanding. No man provides adequately for his wife unless he gives her these, though he clothes her in silks and hangs her with diamonds."

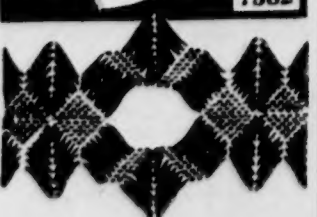

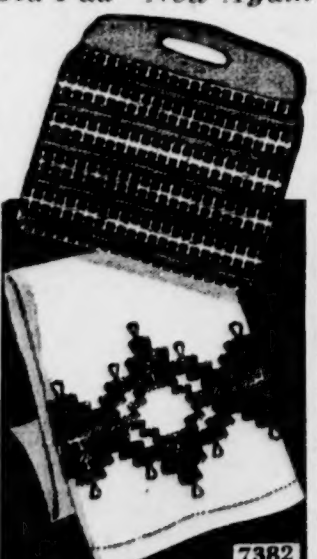

"BE A COMPANION to your wife. Keep her entertained. Take her to places of amusement as often as you can. Take an interest in everything she does and help her to improve herself. Don't make her marriage to you one long drawn-out life sentence at hard labor. Make it cheerful and happy and worth-while to her. I married a good man, who was a good provider, but he wasn't a good husband, because he starved me to death for lack of love and appreciation, and made me feel that I was nothing but a household convenience."

And Pop might well say to his daughter: "The secret of being a good wife is to let your husband be happy in his own way and cherish the fond illusion that he is the head of the house. Ask his advice, whether you take it or not. Fall in with his plans. Talk to him about the things he is interested in. Don't nag. Don't boss. And be jolly, even if you don't feel that you have anything to laugh at. Never forget that your husband is your youngest baby and needs the most looking after and coddling, and you will never lose him."

Perhaps it is because so many young married couples get advice from the wrong ones divorces are so common.

Why Grow Old?

Do you envy pretty Actress Joan Winfield. If you don't you're an unusual woman. But envy of everybody's good fortune is bad for you.

By Josephine Lowman

This week I am writing about some of the destructive emotions which take such a heavy penalty of our health and our joy in living. We have always known that such emotions can make us feel exhausted and miserable and give us a headache, but only fairly recently have the physical repercussions of psychological and emotional states been well understood.

It seems to me that envy is one of the meanest of all emotions. It has no sweep, and it is so small and squint-eyed and tight-lipped. It is the antithesis of the emotions which make a woman charming, yet it is one of the most prevalent, especially among women. Few are free from it.

If we are envious it really means that we can think only in terms of self, and therefore cannot be truly happy for the other person. We must always superimpose our own personal viewpoint on the good luck of our friends. Also, when we envy someone something we are not apt to count our own blessings. In fact, the envious person seldom appreciates what he has or the destructive emotion would not occur to him.

If I were told that I must indulge regularly in one destructive emotion I think I would choose anger and go about tearing fenders off cars, or something. At least this emotion is positive rather than negative. I feel sure that envy would be the last destructive emotion I would choose. There is something terrible to me about viewing the great wide world through the peephole of personal wishes and desires!

If you are envious, beware. You have said goodbye to charm, your lips are probably drawn in a tight line, and your eyes are sinking in your head. You are molded physically as well as spiritually by our thoughts and emotions.

Propose Resume Talks on Korea

MOSCOW, April 22.—(AP)—Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia proposed in a letter to State Secretary Marshall of the United States today that the joint Russian-American commission on Korea convene in Seoul on May 20 to resume its work. Molotov, responding to a letter from Marshall in which the latter called on Russia to co-operate with the United States in restoring independence to Korea as soon as possible, proposed a three-point program for the occupied country.

Your Baby and Mine

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

It may be convenient for a parent to mix all of the baby's solid foods together and get them all down at one time. But it is far from developing an appetite for food in the child so fed. Mrs. A. J. S. says she mixes egg yolk, orange juice, vegetables and cereal together and wonders if she is doing right. No, not in my opinion. The child should be learning to like and appreciate the flavors and textures of these different foods. He never will so long as they are fed to him in a sort of hash.

There is another possible disadvantage. All foods do not always agree with a child. In case one of these might be an offending food, then the whole mixture would be. Better stick to one food at a time.

Mrs. K. L. P. writes, "My son is just nine months old and you wrote that at this age the appetite tends to fall off. My son is on three meals a day, which includes a cup of milk with each meal. My mother thinks she doesn't get enough to eat. Do you think this is true? He eats all varieties of food and is happy and full of pep."

You have provided your own answer. If the child is gaining, satisfied and sleeps and eats well, then he must be getting enough to eat. The child who is eating large quantities of food at four to six months of age, quite often cuts down on those portions around nine months of age (there is no specific date); and then the mother begins forcing food in the fear that he is being underfed. Let the baby eat the amounts that satisfy him, and then he won't develop appetitelessness.

Mrs. E. M. S.: I feel that the right way to end constipation especially in a child of two months, is by way of the feeding.

You did not tell me whether the baby was breast or bottle fed. If breast fed there is no harm in waiting for a natural evacuation, even though it may be two days between movements. Or, if the gain is low, then you might find the baby profiting by complementary feedings, or cereal, and of course orange juice and vitamin.

The bottle-fed baby's formula is at least one bowel movement a day. The use of physics or even of suppositories daily is unnecessary if the mother works upon the form, but she won! The true athlete's prize was hers.

Edmonton just happens to be host city to Dominion senior and junior girls track and field championship meet, July 25 and 26, in which a sprinkling of female American athletes will compete. Other meets will follow in August and September, elimination trials for the Canadian team personnel. Winsome Edith will be in the thick of it.

Already she's "warming up" for the competitions, attending sports classes in the USO building.

HERE'S HER RECORD TO DATE. In 1942 (14-15 year old class) won the 60 metre hurdles in 41 seconds, the 60 metre dash in eight seconds, the 100 metre dash in 18 2/5 seconds, and running broad jump. In 1944 tied for first in the Dominion 80 metre hurdles, equalled first in the 75 yard dash in nine seconds in British Columbia; and broke four Alberta interscholastic records, winning the 60 metre dash, the 80 metre hurdles, the running high, and the running broad jump at 69 1/2 feet. Next year she set her own running high jump record of four feet, nine and three-quarters inches, which she broke to soar to new Alberta title heights, four feet, 11 inches in 1946.

Which leaves Edith jumping as high as she stands—no mean feat—and her height disadvantage in bigger meets. This spring she expects stiff competition from another high jumping Edmontonian, Ellen Neilson, who has a long legged advantage of nine extra inches.

other high jumping Edmontonian, Ellen Neilson, who has a long legged advantage of nine extra inches.

WHEREVER THE MEET MAY be, blue-eyed Edith finds she has better luck when Dad is along to watch and encourage. "They never hold me back in sports," she said.

During the season 1943-44 she played basketball for Bisset Institute, and the institute won the Blyth trophy, a city award. For 1944-45 she joined the "Pats" basketball team, and the following season played for Clare Hollingsworth's composite cagers, a team chosen from top players of all Edmonton high schools. Currently is playing for the "Pats" who are 1946-47 Alberta intermediate champions in basketball.

As sports "rep" at University High School, she's in grade 12 there. Edith has the job of organizing and co-ordinating all school sports, including track and field, badminton, fastball and skiing.

MAKING HER OWN CLOTHES is a necessity with the track star. She does it because she "can't get any small enough to fit her." It's a case of a teen-ager wearing size 10 patterns.

No matter what else she accomplishes, at heart Edith is Edmonton's unaffected, freckle-faced kid. With a modicum of luck, —the hope, shining in her eyes when she talks of her track mates, will come true.

"If we're lucky, and get on the track and field team, we'll be training all next fall and winter—if not, guess I'll have to go to Varsity and take PT."

premise that the baby's diet is responsible for the constipation.

Our leaflet No. 53, "Types of Stools and Constipation," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Where do we WANT to go from here?

We in Canada have now come through the hardest part of the post-war adjustment period. By buying in moderation only what we really needed, by resisting the natural desire to rush madly after long-absent luxuries, we have been able to keep prices at reasonable levels. We have been able—so far—to escape the strife and the uselessness of inflation. Knowing where we want to go, we have also known how to get there. Credit for this lies with the foresighted planning of our Government—the wisdom of the people—and the Canadian habit of moderation in all things, which as The House of Seagram has long maintained, is unquestionably one of this country's finest assets.

E. Cornfield Becomes Bride

Against a setting of bouquets of spring flowers at Sacred Heart Church Saturday at 6:30 p.m. Miss Ellen Kathleen Cornfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frigon, was married to Gordon Lloyd Stainthorpe, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Stainthorpe, all of Edmonton. The Rev. Father Woodhouse officiated.

GIVEN IN MARRIAGE by her father, the bride was given in silver length duchess satin, styled with a sweetheart neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt, of which the lower edge was ruffled. Her long sleeves ended in lily points and a tiny ruffle over her wrists. Her only ornament was a sapphire pendant, and she carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Bridesmaid was Miss Jeanette Guimont who wore a blue tulle dress, made with full skirt, and a matching bolero. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a wreath of pink carnations, and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Best man was Edgar Guimont, and Ernest Wisely was usher. Mrs. E. Brissette played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register Miss M. Nansen sang Ave Maria.

AFTER the ceremony a small reception was held. Receiving with the bride couple, Mrs. Frigon, mother of the bride chose a black dress with contrasting fuchsia-toned hat and gloves. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Stainthorpe, wore a turquoise dress trimmed with fuchsia-toned material, and hat and accessories of brown. American Beauty roses also formed her corsage.

Set with a lace cloth, and centered by a four tier wedding cake, the bride's table was gay with vases of spring flowers. Tall tapers flanked the cake. Presiding at the coffee urn was Mrs. J. E. Weely, aunt of the bride while serving were the Misses Enid Stainthorpe, Nellie Van Hook, Lydia Sauer.

Girl Guides Receive Wings

At a joint meeting of the Guides and Brownies of Robertson United Church seven Brownies received their "wings" and became Guides. A special guest at this meeting was Helen Barr, a Brownie from New Zealand, who also received her wings, having earned her required badges in her homeland.
